SOLUTION BRIEF:

Improve Your Supply Chain Efficiency for Happier Customers and a Better Bottom Line

With the fast growth of e-commerce, companies can't afford delivery problems that irritate customers and eat into profits. Delays, inaccurate addresses, delivery scheduling hiccups, and first-attempt failures are frustrating—especially if you don't have a holistic view of your supply chain for proactive strategy improvements.

Together with Honeywell® and FarEye®, Stratix offers an end-to-end solution that'll give you the visibility you need to solve your supply chain challenges. It includes the hardware, software, services, and support to optimize your operations, cut costs, enable driver efficiency, and improve customer satisfaction.

How FarEye Makes You Better

FarEye software improves logistics in three significant ways:

Advanced Last-Mile Execution

Sophisticated routing algorithms (loop optimization, dynamic routing) to enable driver efficiency and cost savings.

Predictive Visibility

Real-time end-to-end transportation visibility through IoT-driven tracking of assets and shipments so you can make data-driven predictive decisions to ensure your commitments are met.

Information and Control Customers Want

Offer a superior customer experience with an integrated web and mobile platform for real-time visibility and personalization of deliveries.

Honeywell's Rugged Mobile Computers Drive Supply Chain Efficiency

Purpose-built logistics devices paired with FarEye software help improve end-to-end performance.

CK65

The perfect blend of keypad and touchscreen, ergonomics, and durability, all in a slim form factor with lightning-fast speeds

CT45

Sleek and stylish enterprise-class, full-touch device that helps improve worker productivity and minimize fatigue
